

WHERE'S YOUR LINE?

Expect Respect's Theatre for Dialogue Program

This dating abuse prevention program takes virtual learning to the next level as it examines the relationship between two high school seniors, Eli and Maya, who are struggling with the stress of applying for college and the possibility of their relationship changing with this next step. The program is highly interactive, including dynamic digital storytelling, collaborative activities, and live facilitated conversation. Facilitators invite the audience to identify healthy and unhealthy dating behaviors, learn how to create boundaries, and gain tools to navigate problems in relationships. This program is ideal for 10-12th grade students. We can accommodate 15-25 students in an audience. We provide this program free of charge.

TO BOOK A PERFORMANCE OR FOR MORE INFORMATION, CONTACT:

Delanté Keys
Ed. Theatre Coordinator
dkeys@safeaustin.org
Expectrespectaustin.org

expectrespect®
A Program of SAFE

Now booking virtual performances for

2020-2021

"I learned how to respect my partner and how and what to say in hard moments."

-12th grade student
Austin High School

"I liked that the presenters created a positive and safe environment to discuss these topics."

-11th grade student
McCallum High School

"I learned that it's good to know each other's boundaries in relationships and communication is key."

-12th grade student
Connally High School